Gentlemen,

Thank you for sending me your material which I find quite fascinating. I would indeed like to contribute to such an enterprise in every way possible.

I will be in Israel early next month to attend a meeting of the Board of Governors of the Weizmann Institute in Rehovoth. If you can see any advantage to it, please do not hesitate to leave word towards arranging an appointment for a personal meeting during the first few days of May. I will be at the San Martin Clubhouse on the Weizmann campus.

I would have thought there would be some relationship between your organization and the institute and would be interested to have any factual information you might care to give me about that.

I also wonder about using your activities as the material for a column in The Washington Post to which I am a regular contributor. However, I would want to know, if possible, a little bit more about some of the personalities who are involved in your organization.

I would also urge you to put on your mailing list the name of the senior correspondent for The Washington Post, Mr. Alfred Friendly who has often written from and about Israel. He can be reached at the address below.

Sincerely yours,

Joshua Lederberg
Professor of Genetics
